About the Author

Born in a mini car in a car park in South Wales, Mini worked as a theatre designer, then a primary school teacher, before studying for an MA in sequential design at Brighton University.

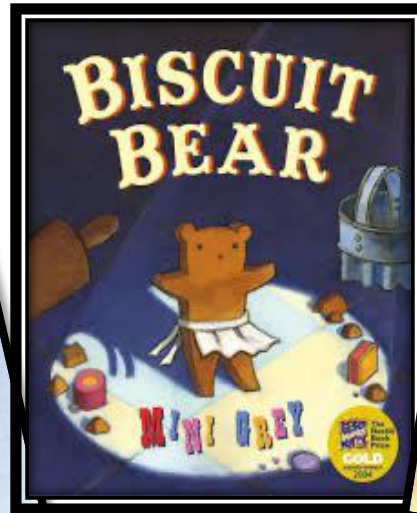

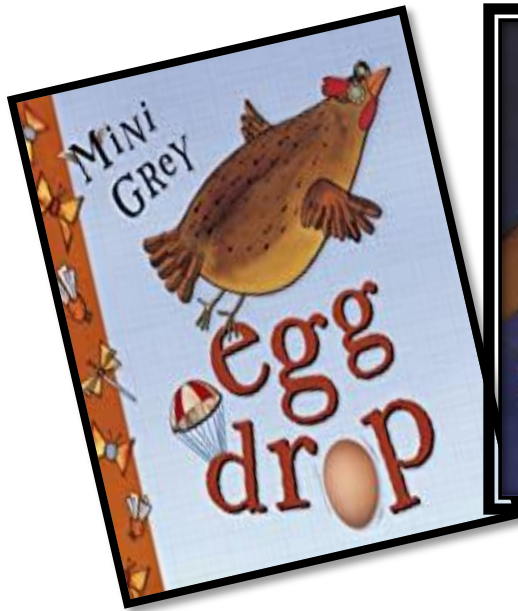

As a child, she grew up in a village in Buckinghamshire with plenty of spaces to make camps, climb trees and pretend to be horses. She believed no day should pass without making something creative, making many bizarre objects from cardboard, clay, papier mache, dough and toilet rolls.

Mini works at home in Oxford. Her first picture book was Egg Drop, a story about an egg that dreams of being able to fly. Her second book, The Pea and the Princess, was shortlisted for the Kate Greenaway award. It is beautifully illustrated.

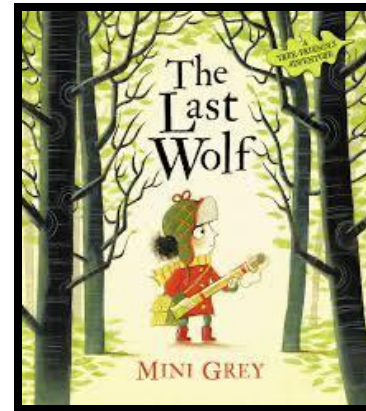

Mini's book Biscuit Bear won the Smarties Gold Prize in 2004, and Traction Man is Here won the Boston Horn Book Award for 2005 and was shortlisted for the Greenaway Award in 2006. The Adventures of the Dish and the Spoon won Nestle Bronze in 2006 and the Greenaway Award in 2007. Books Mini has illustrated for other people include The Crocodile is Coming by June Crebbin, Into the Woods by Lyn Gardner, and The Twin Giants by Dick King-Smith.

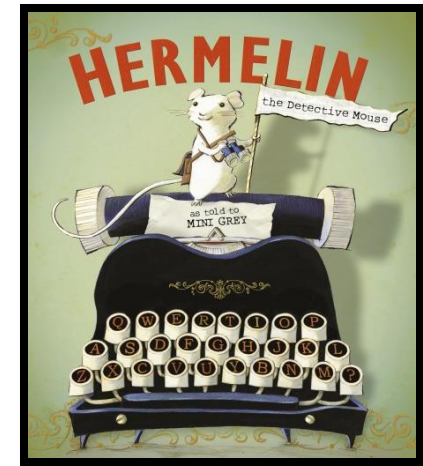

The Last Wolf is based on the story of Little Red, who set off into the woods to catch a wolf.....

But the woods aren't all they seem - and are there even any wolves left? Mini re-imagines the story of the classic Little Red Riding Hood fable in an entirely new way. Can Little Red help her new friends in need and recover the wild days of the past?

A very moving and funny book.

Hermelin is a noticer. He is also a finder. The occupants of Offley Street are delighted when their missing items are found, but not so happy to learn their new detective is a mouse! What will happen to Hermelin? Will his talents go unrewarded?

'Taking inspiration from numerous fairytales and weaving them into a wholly original story, Into The Woods is a whirlwind of a novel, full of imaginative happenings, dastardly deeds and thrilling adventure.

Three sisters: Storm, Aurora and Anything Eden. Accidentally orphaned and left to fend for themselves in a decaying mansion on the edge of the wilds, they come to the very much unwanted attention of the sinister Dr DeWilde: a scar-faced gentleman with a pied waistcoat and an unhealthy interest in rats. He's after a tiny little musical pipe that Storm has inherited, and he'll stop at nothing to get it.
